On June 11th and 12th, Glencoe Lodge No. 22, Knights of Pythias, proudly recognized outstanding young students from the local community with the presentation of the 2025 Pythian Students of the Year awards. Chancellor Commander Daniel Stinchfield presented the honors to students from North Plains Elementary and Atfalati Ridge Elementary Schools.

This year's recipients are Jacob Smith and Skye Ravensberg from North Plains Elementary, and Johan Marko Olea and Hillary Narh-Amanor from Atfalati Ridge Elementary. These exceptional students were selected by their schools' teachers and administrators in recognition of their academic excellence, positive character, and meaningful contributions to their school communities.

Each awardee embodies the core Pythian values of Friendship, Charity, and Benevolence—principles that guide the mission and work of the Knights of Pythias. Glencoe Lodge No. 22 commends these students for their achievements and wishes them continued success in their academic and personal journeys.
